You probably know that your body needs lots of vitamins and minerals to grow strong, but did you know that your eyes need special kinds of vitamins too?

One example is lycopene, a substance that helps protect against diseases of the eye. Not sure where to get it? Eat your tomatoes – they are an excellent source of lycopene.

So you think you have superhero eyes?

Ask your parents to help you cut out this mask and create a design fit for a superhero. Add string for attachment.
